2001

Technology! It is impacting everyone, everywhere and should be accessible to anyone, anywhere. CHI 2001 will explore the visions and the challenges of this new century. You will gain insights on accessibility, portability, and internationalization and emerging research and technology initiatives. A dynamic program of tutorials, workshops and presentations will provide a platform for leading industry gurus to address the full range of human-computer interaction topics and issues. Join us in Seattle!
